First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

We are in the midst of the Easter season which lasts for 50 days. Lent not only prepared us for the Easter Sunday celebration but also how to proclaim the risen Christ to the world. Sometimes we Catholics have to be reminded we are Easter people, full of life and joy. Sometimes our memories of past Lents of giving up, penance, and sacrifices are stronger than our Easter devotions of living joyfully and celebrating the 50 days of Easter.

Some of the joy for our parish family is celebrating with our children who on Saturday received the Sacraments of Confirmation and First Communion. Fr. Greg Schlarb, the Pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Scottsdale, came to celebrate these sacraments with us. This coming Saturday I will personally have the honor to celebrate the Sacrament of Confirmation and First Communion with some of our children. I am grateful to Bishop Dolan for giving me permission to do so this Saturday. These children and their families are reminders to all of us that our faith continues to be lived with joy and excitement. Through passing on our faith and consistent eating at the table of the Lord, we remember the Easter event of the resurrection.

Congratulations to all the children and families who received or will receive Confirmation and First Eucharist.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission Living Beyond Sunday

BY ERIC TAMAYO,
Pastoral Associate

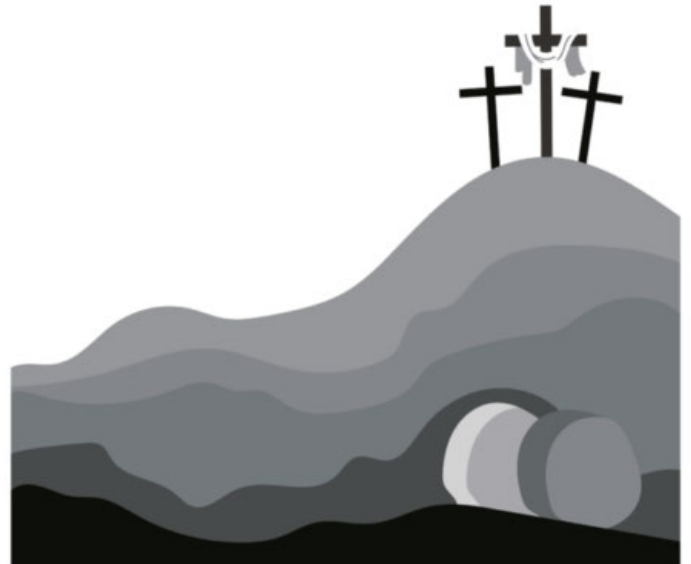

Be a Witness to God's Love and Mercy

In the gospel this week we see Jesus, risen from the dead, appearing before his disciples. While their initial reaction is one of fear, as they recognize the wounds of Christ their fear quickly turns to joy and amazement. Like the disciples in Galilee and the disciples walking on the road to Emmaus, sometimes we can become blind to Jesus walking right alongside us. Sometimes it is the business of our own personal lives, sometimes it is our pride, or even sin, that clouds our ability to recognize the presence of Christ. As we see in scripture, being able to recognize the presence of Christ in our lives can be a truly transformational experience. Part of being a disciple means being a witness to the work of God in the world. At the end of the gospel this is exactly what Jesus tells his disciples, "you are witnesses of these things," a witness to God's love and mercy to the world.

If you have ever been involved in a ministry here at St. Patrick I am sure you have seen firsthand the amazing generosity and dedication of people who, in their own way, bring the presence and love of God into the world. Many of St. Patrick ministries revolve around this central idea of recognizing Christ in our midst and being a witness of his love to the world. With over one hundred ministries at St. Patrick we strive to provide a safe place for people to gather and grow, at the same time recognizing our baptismal promise to share God's love to the world. This is all made possible because of the ministry leaders and ministers who dedicate their time and talents to making the community a better place. Our mission is to live beyond Sunday, seeking to encounter all people with an open heart while walking together on a journey to deepen our relationship with God. If you would like to become more involved consider checking our parish website or calling the parish office for more information on how you can get involved.

One way we can be a witness to God's love and mercy is by showing our appreciation to the very people who volunteer and take on roles in ministry to serve others. Next week on Saturday April 20, following the 4:30 pm Mass, we will be hosting a ministry appreciation barbecue dinner. There will be chopped brisket, pulled pork, dessert, and refreshments available. If you are involved in a ministry please consider attending so together as a Catholic community we can show our support and appreciation for those who dedicate their lives to being a witness of God's love to the world.

Stewardship

Dear God, you hear me when I call. When I begin to doubt your presence, let me be reminded that you were always with me, and you fulfill all your promises. When I turn away from you, lead me back to your grace. Help me repent for my sins and shower me with your unending grace and mercy.

God is "the author of life" as we hear in the first reading from Acts. During the speech from St. Peter, we are given a tremendous overview and summation of salvation history. We hear about the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and later about the prophets who were sent to announce Christ's coming. We also hear about the swap for Barabbas "the murderer" and the denial before Pilate. Finally, we hear the formula for eternal life: "Repent, and return, so that your sins may be wiped away." This reads like a CliffsNotes version of the Bible.

As the author of the story of salvation, the Holy Spirit recaps this tale for us in the first reading (through Peter) and in the gospel (through Christ himself as he unpacks the law of Moses, the prophets, and the psalms). The second reading from St. John furthers this theme when we hear about the role of the Advocate (the Holy Spirit) and what it takes to live a Christian life authentically and virtuously.

The covenants, laws, and prophecies of the Old Testament didn't happen by accident. No, God's plan for our salvation is tangible and practical, unfolding intentionally over the centuries. The story makes sense because it was the purposeful design of its author, the "author of life" who God raised from the dead.

Social Justice

We show our respect for the Creator by our stewardship of creation. Care for the earth is not just an Earth Day slogan, it is a requirement of our faith. We are called to protect people and the planet, living our faith in relationship with all of God's creation. This environmental challenge has fundamental moral and ethical dimensions that cannot be ignored.

(Care for Creation, USCCB)

Earth Day is an annual event held every April 22 to demonstrate support for environmental protection. First held on April 22, 1970, it now includes a wide range of events coordinated globally by earthday.org including 1 billion people in more than 193 countries. The official theme for 2024 is Planet vs. Plastics.

According to their website, earthday.org is changing human attitudes about and behavior toward plastics and reducing plastic pollution. The End Plastic Pollution campaign helps people understand the impacts of plastic pollution on human and ecosystem health and how everyday actions can lessen the problem. There are a few simple things we all can do to cut back on plastic usage like carrying reusable bags for shopping and using reusable utensils for meals at work.

Earthday.org is a wonderful website to visit and learn more about the 2024 theme. There is in-depth information, quizzes, and tool sheets about this topic. Learn how your contribution of simple changes to your everyday habits and lifestyle can benefit the greater good in our local community and the world.
